Author Publishing Agreement

Choose Open Access

Based on the information you provided at submission you may be eligible for Open Access funding through an agreement from your organization. This means your article will be free for anyone to read. This typically leads to more citations and downloads. Learn more about Open Access agreements

Have we got the wrong organization? Request changes

Would you like to publish this article Open Access?

- I’d like to use the Universidade Federal de Minas Gerais Programa de Pos-graduação em Saúde Pública Open Access agreement
- I have other funds for Open Access I am required to use

If you choose this option, we will ask your institution if they will fund Open Access publication of your article.

If they cannot provide funding for Open Access, we will let you know via email, and you can choose to fund it yourself or publish it as an article with subscription-based access.
Author Publishing Agreement

Confirm who owns your article’s copyright

We need to know who owns the copyright of your article so that we can accurately reflect that ownership in your authorship agreement.

Many times, scholars working on original research own the copyright for their written works, but not always. If you produced this article as work-for-hire or as a government employee, for example, you may not own the copyright.

Please tell us about the copyright ownership of your article.

☐ I own copyright. If I have co-authors, we jointly own copyright and I am acting on our behalf.

☐ I am an employee of the UK, Canadian, Australian, or other Commonwealth Realm Government, and the Crown retains and asserts copyright.

☐ I am a US Government (including NIH) employee and there is no copyright to transfer.

☐ I am a contractor of the US Government (includes NIH contractors).

☐ I am an employee of the European Union and copyright is asserted and retained by the European Union.

☐ I am employed and the copyright belongs to my employer (or is a work made for hire).

☐ I am an employee of a Government, Agency, or International Organization and copyright is retained by that entity.

When determining the copyright ownership of an article, please use the following check list:

• I have not published my Article previously.
• I have not submitted my Article to another journal, and I confirm that it is not under consideration by any other journal.
• I intend to publish the Article exclusively with Taylor & Francis.
• I am not claiming Crown copyright if one of my co-authors is a Minister or civil servant.
• I am only claiming U.S. Government non-Copyrightable Status if one of my co-authors is an officer or employee of the Federal Government of the United States of America.
• If one of my colleagues is a National Institutes of Health (NIH) employee, I have selected the "NIH Government employee" option.
• If one of my colleagues is a contractor of the U.S. Government (including NIH contractors), I have selected the "contractor of the U.S. government" option.
• I understand that if I am working in a university as a research lecturer but am granted funding and am submitting this work as part of my normal research, my work does not qualify as "work for hire".

Author declares any conflict-of-interest

A conflict of interest might arise if you have a personal interest in your research ending in a particular outcome. To uphold transparency and trust, it’s important for us to document any conflict that you think might apply here.

Do you need to make a conflict of interest statement?

- No
- Yes

A conflict-of-interest may occur when an author or an author’s employer or sponsor has a financial, commercial, legal, or professional relationship with other organizations or with the people working with them that may exert an influence on that author’s research. You can read more about our conflict-of-interest policies at http://journalauthors.tandf.co.uk/permissions/reusingOwnWork.asp. If you select “Yes”, you will be asked to provide a Disclosure Statement.
Confirm permissions

Before we publish your work, we need to confirm with you that any third-party content in your article is used with the permission of its copyright owner. You'll need to have permission even if you've included the content under a fair use claim.

Does this article include content from third parties that you are responsible for obtaining permission to reuse?

- No
- Yes

We require that you obtain the necessary written permission in advance from any third-party owners of copyright for the use in print and electronic formats of any of their text, illustrations, graphics, or other material, in your article. The same applies to any other necessary consent. Suggested wording for the request for permission is given here. It is also important to ensure you acknowledge the source, and cite the source in your References section. If you select "Yes", you will be asked to provide information about the content and rightsholders you have obtained permission from.

Dear Hannah Ward,

We are writing to update you with regard to your Open Access funding request for your article "An extinct species of Tchangmargarya (Gastropoda: Viviparidae) from Quaternary lacustrine deposits of a group of vanished lakes in Yunnan, China". Your institution has declined your request for funding to pay the author publishing charge (APC) for Open Access.

There are still options available to you to make your article Open Access. You can make your final article Open Access by paying the Author Publishing Charge, or you can archive an earlier version of your article without any charge to you. To ensure your article is published under the correct license please choose an option below.

- I'd like to publish Open Access
  Make your article available for free to anyone worldwide

- I don't want to publish Open Access
  Publish your article under subscription-based access

Please visit Author Services to find out more about these choices. If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to contact us at anonymous@tandf.co.uk

Author Publishing Agreement

Choose Open Access

Based on the information you provided on submission, your estimated Article Publishing Charge (APC) for publishing Open Access is €2,730.00 plus applicable taxes.

Open Access offers greater accessibility, visibility, and impact for your research. Articles published Open Access with Taylor & Francis typically receive 95% more citations and over 7 times as many downloads. Read about these benefits in our Open Access information pages.

Some organizations may be willing to fund Open Access for their researchers, or even mandate that your research output is published as Open Access. We recommend that you check with your organization. If you believe your institution has an agreement with us and might provide payment for your APC, please contact us.

Are you interested in publishing this article as Open Access?

- Yes, show me the final Article Publishing Charge
- No, I do not want to publish Open Access

Research Dashboard Overview
NEW Accepted Status.

Article metadata populates when an article is accepted for publication with a status of OA Available. You will not be able to approve or decline funding here because the author has not yet completed their agreement.
NEW Accepted Status. If the author makes amendments during the workflow, the article funding status will change to "Queried by Author" until the changes are made and the author has completed the workflow.
NEW Action Required Status.

Only once an author has chosen to request funds from your open access agreement and completed their licence signing will the status change to OA requested. The article approve/decline functionality will then appear to enable you to make a funding decision.
NEW Approval Status.
Once you approve the funding, the article will move to the approved tab with a status of OA Approved.
